

VINE To WINE

2021 Chardonnay, 2022 Pinot Gris &amp; 2022 White Pinot

Introducing three wines to drink throughout the summer and beyond. These scintillating wines reflect our truly cool climate, while providing a fantastic depth of varietal flavour and texture.

2021 Chardonnay

“Curly Flat delivers the goods. There is nothing wan about this release, it has body and it has flavour and it probably even has soul. Pristine peach, nectarine and citrus flavours are served hand-in-glove with cedarwood oak. There’s more than a little texture here, silken and grippy at once. There’s smoked wheat character here too, perhaps even crushed fennel, though it presents as one seamless gorgeous lipsmacking whole. Super gear.” 95+ points Campbell Mattinson, The Wine Front

“2021 has produced some incredible cool climate wines with this release from Curly Flat having tension, poise and balance. Wonderful length with lovely integration of oak and fruit to finish.” 96 points Patrick Eckel

A cool season with a warm flourish at harvest elevate this vintage to one of our finest, delivering a Chardonnay of impressive energy and subtle power that rewards both drinking now and over the next decade.

2022 Pinot Gris & White Pinot

The 2022 season is one where finesse meets flavour. Again, a cooler growing year with enough warmth to culminate in a crescendo of fragrance and delicate power. Our Pinot Gris and White Pinot offer delicious refreshment with a sophisticated twist of textural interest.

What is White Pinot? We pick Pinot Noir at the same ripeness as our Estate Pinot Noir, but instead of placing it in a fermenter, we place it in the press for a gentle two-hour press cycle. This leads to a gentle extraction of the Pinot Noir skins resulting in pale pink juice fermented indigenously in neutral French oak puncheons. The result is a Pinot noir made as a white, hence White Pinot!

Current Release Reviews

Due to the super low yields, quality is high and stocks are low! Sadly there has been disappointment with the SOLD OUT status of a number of our current release wines. That said, 2021 Western, Central and Estate Pinot are due for release April 2023.

2019 Curly Flat Pinot Noir ($60)

Deepish dark red colour with a tint of purple and a rich spicy, 'forest floor' and dark-cherry bouquet, subtly tinged with char-oak. The wine is full-bodied and strongly built, with voluminous flavour, serious tannin structure and plenty of grip. An impressive pinot of impressive weight, flesh and density, which promises to age superbly. 96 Points Huon Hooke, The Real Review

2020 Curly Flat Pinot Noir ($58)

Aromas of ripe red cherry, hard brown spices, crushed rose, blueberry, ginger bread and wild herbs. A reductive edge. Intensely flavoured palate, dense, smooth-sheeted tannins and unwavering acidity bring precise, vibrant length. 96 Points Nick Stock, Gourmet Traveller Wine

2020 Curly Flat Chardonnay ($50)

A svelte and charming drink with a core of good fruit, all citrus and white nectarine, bound by a savoury overlay. Flinty sulphides, a smidge of creamy nuttiness and a succulence across the palate as the livewire acidity drives this to a long finish. 95 Points Jane Faulkner, Halliday Wine Companion

2020 Curly Flat CENTRAL Pinot Noir (sold out)

This wine is all about detail, from the first impression on the nose to the final taste. A complex nose, with spices and sliced red and dark cherries, orange peel, freshly toasted French oak, sweet earth and leafy tones. Compelling. 98 Points Nick Stock, Gourmet Traveller Wine

2020 Curly Flat WESTERN Pinot Noir (sold out)

This small bottling places structure and purpose ahead of fragrance and allure. Bold red cherry, red plum and darker cherry fruits, it is uncompromisingly pure and focused. So primary and more singularly fruit-focused. Delicious now, better after 2025. 96 Points Nick Stock, Gourmet Traveller Wine
